

INTERNATIONAL WOMAN'S DAY MESSAGE 8 MARCH 2009

The year 2009 is very important for the National Movements of Christian Workers, as they will celebrate their International Seminar and General Assembly. Many women will find support and awareness of others women workers who along side their families struggle for a society of hope and happiness.

Discrimination against women still exists in all areas of their lives, a discrimination which is slowly being overcome. It is a time to underline this important special day called 'International Women's Day' as a recognition of all those women who have given their time to struggle daily for better conditions in life for better treatment and recognition of their rights.

It is important to mention to colleagues about those women who struggle for a better world, in a women's world there is still much work to be done, due to globalisation, the economic crisis, global warming, extreme poverty; but there is also hope in many countries with new governments and citizens organisations who are really preoccupied with the common good.

We want to thank you as a women workers, whether you remain at home caring for the family, or a secretary, teacher, domestic worker, unemployed, and to you indigenous women, exploited, mutilated by cultural, political and ignorant beliefs. We congratulate you on your commitment to life! Also, we invite you to be the leaven amongst the masses like Jesus Christ and join the large family of the World Movement of Christian Workers.

Lets continue to go forward!
